Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

Earl Smith brought to the office a child's leather mitten which he found Saturday on Pearl street.

As usual Fred W. Wardwell, printer, Portland, produces an unusual New Years Greeting: "Its Inside". And there is where we found it. Thanks.

"Bite off more than you can chew, then chew it.
 Plan more than you can do,
 Then do it.
 Hit your wagon to a star,
 Keep your seat, and there you are."

W. H. Roberts writes the office no. address was Harrison, Me. A letter addressed to him at that office has been returned as "unknown". We wonder where we can find him. Please inform.

Edw. H. Packard—not our Ned or Bill—brought a quill-driver of Cambridge, Mass., sends a sample of the historic Washington elm, which he captured himself in 1923. We have turned it over to Walter S. Chaudler, curator of the Advertiser museum-menagerie and extend thanks to giver.

Roger Hutchins of San Francisco, Cal., sent an office wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year. He also sent the announcement of his marriage on Dec. 4, the bride is Miss Ethel Parks of Portland, Me. We extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins and wish them many years of happiness.

Mrs. Nellie U. Stone of Waterford, recently called. She did not tell us she was our correspondent and we allowed her to drift around in "the back shop" unattended. We have felt humiliated ever since. We had an opportunity to explain our pet way of folding a sheet of letter paper and show off our business in which she is a valued assistant.

Richard T. Linnell of Bethel was in town Tuesday. He attended the Pomona Grange meeting and made us a pleasant call. He is a son of our old friend, Marshall C. Linnell of the Misgall farm, and reports his father is in reasonably good health and Lewis Leavitt is as usual. Richard sends investments for P. H. Whiting & Co. He likes the work.

Mrs. Melvin Smith enriched our museum Tuesday by contributing an athletic trophy found on the street. It is a ribbon emblem depicting a sprinter in action. Owner will find it in our collection of tramp articles that have long since made our repository famous.

Archibald Locke proved to be the owner and claimed the trophy, Wednesday.

Evidently the young men looking after the welfare of our community are doing a good work. The Charlie Chaplin is disappearing from their perches on the upper lips of our citizens. Our worthy boss, C. C. Church, has sorrowfully parted with his. Perhaps he received his warning and acted first as others have done.

Elwyn S. Russell, former coal-heating elevator of this office, intimated for internal repairs in the C. M. Russell building three weeks or so. Since his return about three years ago he hasn't smoked. It makes him sick. Neither does he heave coal for us. We put in an old coal for him. He can't smoke plus his wife and that he doesn't shovel coal pleases us. Hence two are happy by his going to the hospital!

Elgin A. Greenleaf—"Old Sourdin-bunk"—sage, wizard and story-teller of Sugar Island, Moosehead Lake, can't smoke. It makes him sick. He received a box of choice cigars from his old friend and guest, Dr. Atwood of Taunton, this gay Christmas time. Elgin is now handling them out one-at-a-time to the wearies and is happy in so doing. We get our share and extend thanks to the good doctor.

G. W. Q. Perham of Bryant Pond attended Pomona here, Tuesday, and dropped into the office. He is one of many farmers praying for rain to fill the springs and wells. For months he has hauled water from ponds and brooks for his live stock, but the critters are not so fastidious. This fastidious partial to brook water. This fastidious taste adds something to the burden of supplying the barn.

A copy of the mid-winter number of the Los Angeles Times arrives. It is in eight parts with 224 pages. Many of the parts are printed in two colors and illustrated galore. It weighs a fraction more than two pounds. This edition denuded considerable forest land somewhere! It sets out the attractions of that prosperous city and locality in good shape.

A man saw an advertisement of a safety razor with an automatic attachment for sharpening the blades. He wrote to the company:

"Enclosed find check for which please send me one of your new scientific safety razors."

P. S. I forgot to enclose the check, but I presume it will make no difference to a company of your standing."

The company replied, as follows: "Enclosed find your safety razor. We hope it will give you good service."

P. S. We forgot to enclose the razor, but we presume that a man with your check won't need one."

Old Dr. Mitchell of Alton, N. H., succeeded in catching the above for this column.

Maurice S. Sherman, editor of the Hartford Courant says:

"Thank you for sending me a copy of fishing regulations governing Oxford County. After having seen you in the custody of a fear-some looking Sheriff and a game warden with grim determination written all over him, I can well understand your interest in the subject. Great are the entanglements of the law."

"In fishing run of luck, but I did avoid getting arrested. An eighteen inch salmon, one of the rarer type, was about the best I could do. However I had a good time, which is what really counts."

Mr. Seitz says: "Appropos of ten cent Fanshawe, I recall George A. Cole telling me he was running an auction at an old place back of Paris Hill when a 'lot' was handed up to him, consisting of a bean pot, a razor strop and a book. He bid ten cents himself to start the bidding. There was no response. So he was stuck."

"He found the strop worthless and threw it away on the way home. He gave the bean pot to his wife and laid the book on the mantelpiece."

"Chancing to note in the Boston Journal that 'Fanshawe' was of value, he recalled that as the name of the book."

"You know the rest. It is fair to say the bean pot was worth ten cents, so he got 'Fanshawe' for nothing. Some ways from that to $5,000!"

"Am going to Providence on the 11th to speak before the University Club. Wish it was a little farther East so I could take in Norway."

FISHING LICENSES OBTAINED

Fred Sanborn says: "I've been sneaking round with an old styled fishing license in my pocket for six months. It has caused me much perplexity and anxiety. I want to be in style and housed within the law in my fishing activities. You know I have a court record and the next time I get into a mix up with Two-Gun Benson it will go pretty hard with me. Hence the anxiety! Six months continued suspense was wearing and making inroads on my health."

When Dan Partridge, town clerk, said the license blanks had arrived I immediately patronized his office to the extent of both fishing and hunting—$1.20—with the expiration notice Dec. 31 and the blue shipping tag thrown in.

The next day the Attorney General delivered an opinion that my old fishing license was all right and would continue up to the time the legislature cancelled "its perpetual character".

Now, that is just my luck. Worried for nothing and spending money where there is no need of it. There are others. Chas. L. Stigars and Mr. Jacobs did the same thing. Got fishing licenses to enable them to legally tempt pickerel in Lower Stone Pond.

There are others—many others, including E. A. Greenleaf, who has thus been fooled.

Mrs. Rosa York has been spending a week in Portland, the guest of her sister.

Miss Anita Betts of New Jersey spent the holidays with her aunt, Miss Rosamond Dunham, Pine street.

Lanwood Fogg closed his engagement at the store of L. M. Longley & Son the end of the year, and is doing electrical work on his own account.

The young matron's club was entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Clayton Heath. At one o'clock luncheon was served after which bridge was enjoyed.

The Knights of Pythias' dance in their hall for members and their partners. Friday night was largely attended. Another dance will be held there Friday evening, Jan. 17.

The same here as at Bridgton. "The bank and some of the other offices were closed on New Year's Day, but the majority of the places of business were open as usual. The Post Office crew took a vacation from its holiday rush and was closed the greater part of the day, the office being open for a short time after the forenoon mail. There was no village or rural delivery."

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer D. Packard entertained at a dinner party and bridge, Thursday evening at their home on Main street. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton E. Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Scott L. Kilborn, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Verdal D. Sampson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Mary Jones substituted for Mrs. Luck, who was unable to attend.

Isaac W. Dow and wife of Newport, R. I., are spending a few days with their son, B. W. Dow, Esq., and family.

The January meeting of the Norway Nursing service committee, which was scheduled for Friday 7th, will be postponed until the 16th.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lebroke of Skowhegan were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lebroke, Cummings Place.

NORTHWEST NORWAY
 Mrs. Edna Thurston spent the day, Tuesday, with her mother, Mr. C. G. French.

Gerry Dunn has gone to the hospital for treatment and to have his teeth extracted. School has begun after the Christmas vacation of two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. French and children spent the day, last Saturday, with Carrie Kingman in South Waterford.

Two hand chemical tanks were used by members of the fire department in subduing lively chimney blaze at Elliot Anderson's house on Elm street, Saturday evening. A strong wind made extra work and increased the danger.

Oxford County United Parish

Embracing Albany, North Lovell, Stoneham and the Waterfalls. Pastoral Staff: Rev. W. I. Bull, E. F. Wentworth, A. C. Townsend

The Council held its bi-monthly meeting at East Stoneham Church, Thursday, Jan. 2. At a previous meeting of the Executive Committee a two months leave of absence had been granted to Rev. W. I. Bull, on account of family duties, following the death of his brother. The leave of absence covers the months of December and January. The Council voted not to employ a substitute, but that the program be reduced to what two men could do until Mr. Bull's return. Some social activities will doubtless have to be omitted. The reorganization of the Staff Fund was approved. A budget of nearly $500.00 was recommended by the Executive Committee, one hundred dollars of which is to be advanced to the Staff for moving pictures and incidental expense. All money for the program budget is to pass through the hands of the Parish treasurer, to whom all financial matters passed after having been approved by the Staff. Any increase of the program budget must be approved by the Executive Committee. Reports to be made bi-monthly to the Council. A tentative change in the moving picture schedule was made at the Council meeting. Pictures to be shown once a month at South Waterford and North Waterford, alternating each two weeks. Pictures to be shown once in two weeks at East Stoneham and North Lovell. The evenings of the week are to be changed as follows: East Stoneham, Thursday; South Waterford, Friday; North Lovell, Saturday. The Council was addressed in the afternoon by Rev. Raymond Morgan of Norway, who spoke on World Service Plans and Methods. The annual meeting of the North Waterford Church was held on New Year's day, with a dinner. The annual meeting of the Waterford Congregational Church was held on Monday evening with a supper in the Wilkins Home. A Circle Supper was served at North Waterford, Tuesday evening, followed by a meeting of the Crooked River Outing Club to discuss plans for the annual winter carnival.

DOES THE WORLD REALLY WANT PEACE?
The Naval Disarmament Conference which is about to meet in London is of immense importance to the whole world, but of more immediate importance to the United States than to any other country. We pride ourselves on being the most peace-loving people in the world, yet we spend more money today on military and naval preparations for war than any other nation.

Perhaps we are wrong in believing that we love peace more than other people do. Hon. Alton Houghton, former Ambassador to Berlin and then to London, suggested as much in his address on assuming the position of Chairman of the Commission on International Justice and Goodwill of the Federal Council of Churches. Pointing out that the United States has managed to get into at least one important war during every generation since the Republic was established, he said that his knowledge of European nations convinced him that each of these honesty thinks, as we do, its people love peace more than any other.

If something of that understanding of the peace-loving nature of humanity in general, and some measure of belief in the good intentions of other nations toward us, gets into the spirit of the Disarmament Conference, there is hope that our delegates may come back with a program, agreed upon by all, which will reduce our naval burden and that of the rest of the world, and provide tangible evidence that we—and the other countries—do actually desire peace—Shoreham Reporter.

RE-IMBURSE DAIRYMEN FOR CATTLE LOST THROUGH T. B. TEST

H. E. Gray of Olean, N. Y., says: "If it is possible to eradicate Tuberculosis in Bovine animals through the Tuberculin test, who is benefited and protected by such tests?" "Who is, indeed? Is it the farmers and their families who are striving, early and late, to get an honest living through the income from their dairies or is it the entire population of our state and nation? In fairness to all, who should pay the toll?" "Is it not true, and rightly so, that representatives of government and state are urging our dairymen to raise pure bred cattle, or at least, to head their herds with pure bred sires? At the same time are they not advising that all herds be given the Tuberculin test? Why should our dairymen be penalized by being called upon to absorb the major portion of losses resulting from such tests? Have we any right to expect helpful cooperation from all these farmers? When are the 'good men and true' that lie awake nights trying to think of some way to help in a movement that may destroy their property and source of income?" "Why not a sufficient federal or state tax or both, to practically cover losses sustained through the tests, a drastic and compulsory test, and a ruling that will insure against future unsanitary conditions, leaving only a very small portion of the burden with the individual owners of cattle? Would dairymen not then give all possible assistance in a thorough clearing up through some such method of procedure? Would not even the dairymen, who now have accredited herds, endorse some such ruling?"

UNIVERSITY OF MAINE NOTES

Miss Marion Dickson of Riddellville has been awarded her diploma as a member of the freshman girls' hockey team at the University of Maine.

Over fifty men have reported for inter-mural boxing at the University of Maine and the fight season bids fair to be a huge success. The dropping of basketball as a varsity sport will naturally turn the heads of sport fans to boxing.

Coaches Bill Kenyon and Daley, are putting the men through preliminary workouts and it is expected that some real sparring matches will be staged in the near future.

Many men from Oxford County gained prominence in the recent class elections held at the University of Maine. Henry Plummer, South Paris, was elected treasurer of the senior class. Harland Knight, South Paris, was elected a member of the senior men's case committee along with Howard Deoster of Norway. Theodore Nutting of South Paris was elected chairman of the sophomore executive committee. Other committee elections have been held back for the time being.

Funeral Services Held for Waino Heikkinen—W. C. T. U. Meeting—Celebrated 83rd Birthday—Bonneys Moved.

The remains of Waino Heikkinen were brought here last week, Thursday, for burial in the Finnish cemetery and the funeral services were held in the Finnish church on the arrival of the train. Rev. Mr. Hattu, pastor of the church, officiated. There were many beautiful flowers. Mr. Heikkinen was the son of the late Henry and Mrs. Heikkinen. Besides his mother, he is survived by three brothers and two sisters, John and Ellie of New York, Peter and Esther in Rockland, and Emil of West Paris. He was born in Finland and was 84 years of age. For several years the family lived in the Huskey farm in Greenwood, later moving to the Jacob Curtis farm on Paris line in the same neighborhood, from there they moved into Aris village, where they bought the large house and residence of Mrs. Moody Lyon. Mr. Heikkinen's death resulted from a blow on the head, while riding in a taxi with a friend in New York, and he was robbed of what money he had. He lived two or three days and was conscious part of the time. The man who is suspected, from what evidence was obtainable, is held, awaiting trial. His brother, John, and sister, Ellie, and a young lady to whom he was engaged, accompanied the remains here from New York.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held with Rev. E. B. Forbes last Thursday afternoon. It was voted to observe the tenth anniversary of the 18th amendment of Prohibition by asking the pastors to preach a sermon on the appropriate to the subject, on Sunday, either before or after the 16th, and to have the several church bells rung at noon for ten minutes consecutively—one minute for each year of the ten years since 18th Amendment became a part of the United States Constitution. This is done on request of the state president, Mrs. Althea G. Quimby. There are many plans for celebrating this tenth anniversary event for the next eight or nine months by the National W. C. T. U. and States individually. There is to be a day of celebration by the Portland W. C. T. U. the 15th, with a banquet dinner. South Paris and Norway are planning a public meeting the evening of the 16th.

A very happy and pretty affair was the 83rd birthday celebration of Mrs. Columbia Dunham, last week, Friday evening, at her home and it was a surprise to her. Arthur Flavin, her grandson, who has recently returned from Italy and is spending the month of January at home before his return for another year in Italy, planned the surprise for Grandma Dunham. A banquet was served at 7 p. m., consisting of potato salad and olives, sandwiches and birthday cakes.

The dining table was very prettily decorated with a dozen plates of pink and ferns with half a dozen tall candles arranged around it, and with the large platter of salad, the big plates of sandwiches and cakes made the table very pretty. The guests were seated in the living room and parlor and each was served by Mrs. Leona Ridlon and her attendants, Mrs. Ida Jacobs, Mrs. Laura Flavin, Ethel Flavin and the two little girls, granddaughters, Emory and Phyllis Flavin. Mrs. Dunham was escorted by Arthur Flavin through the dining room and then to her seat of honor in the parlor.

The birthday cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Ridlon, which was a large, round nut and fruit cake, frosted in white and green, with eighty-three candles in pink holders and was a pretty sight when all lighted, as it was when just before it was cut for serving it was brought in to the recipient. The lights of the room were turned out and the cake illuminated the room. After the sight of it had been sufficiently enjoyed, Mrs. Dunham blew out the candles. Little Phyllis enjoyed the chance to blow out some. It was then taken back to the dining table and served. Another smaller birthday cake was given by her sister, Mrs. Bradford, which also was very pretty and appropriately decorated.

After the banquet old songs were enjoyed for an hour or so with Ethel Flavin at the piano. About twenty-five guests were present, including all the family. Mrs. Dunham has been a much loved and honored woman and has many friends. Her faculties are quite well preserved, although not very strong physically. She comes of the Flavin stock, a descendant of Gov. Bradford. Mrs. Bradford mentioned above, is her late brother, John Bradford's wife, who, with her daughter, Edith, and son, Leon, was among the guests present. Other gifts were received including a bouquet of a dozen half-blown pink roses from the neighbors and friends, also a post card shower earlier in the day.

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold their monthly meeting next Monday evening, January 13, at the schoolhouse.

The Association is happy to announce that it is to have Ethel Anderson, comedy reader, of Norway, and her corps of helpers, including Lucinda Bixley of So. Paris, who won last year in the county speaking contest, also took part in the state contest, also two other young ladies, one from Norway and one from Oxford, who took part in the county contest. Mrs. Anderson always greets an appreciative audience here and always has an entirely different program each time.

New Year's Sunday at the United Parish Church had special features adding to its attractiveness and profit. A sermon on "The Untrodden Paths of Life" with special music at the morning service, followed by the communion service. At the Sunday school session a ship-sailing contest got underway. BOLSTERS MILLS

Installation of Grange Officers and Program—Mrs. Stuart Going to Boston.

An all day meeting was held by Crooked River Grange, Saturday, January 4, to install the new officers for the coming year. They are as follows:

Master—Roy Dresser.
Dresser—Wynne Lord.
Lecturer—Grace Ellis.
Pastor—Rev. E. B. Forbes.
Assistant Steward—Wilmot Lord.
Chaplain—Addie Lord.
Treasurer—J. O. Weston.
Secretary—Rebecca Shedd.
Gate Keeper—Robert Winslow.
Pomeroy—Jennie Dresser.
Pomeroy—Beatrice Ellis.
Pomeroy—Elizabeth Edwards.
L. A. Stewart—Ruth Skillings.

The Hall was decorated by Worthy Master Dresser and Sister Edith Skillings in keeping with the New Year Season. The stage was a bank of evergreen, while green, orange and red crepe paper were used tastefully to give color and life to the setting. The newly made emblem was put in place, also the word "Welcome."

After the usual opening session in the hall, the Rev. E. B. Forbes, pastor of the church, performed at the piano, while the company passed to the dining room below, where a bountiful baked bean dinner, with hot rolls, salads, cake and pies was served by Sister Jennie Dresser and her elected sisters.

In the afternoon Sister Nellie Bryant of South Bridgton Grange and three Sister assistants installed, in a very pleasing and able manner, impressing each new officer with the true Grange lessons. South Bridgton and Frederick Roble Granges were invited guests, assisting in the program, which was arranged by Worthy Master Dresser and Sister Ethel Skillings and was as follows:

Reading—Frederick Roble Grange.
Music—Wilmot Lord and Robert Winslow, harmonica.
Reading—Emma Grover, Lakeside Grange.
Reading—Maud Berry, South Bridgton Grange.
Song—Four Sisters of the installing staff of South Bridgton (encore).
Reading—Miss Whitney.
Reading—Miss Linnell.
Judge Pike and wife, were guests of the day, the Judge being the speaker which he did in his pleasing manner, bringing words of cheer and encouragement for the New Year. Many others also passed on to us the New Year greetings, which we feel were helpful and sincere.

This is Worthy Master Dresser's fourth year, so it shows the esteem and worthiness his brothers and sisters place in him and surely it will be hard in years to come to find one always ready and willing to plan this service for the Grange and to give the helpful hand wherever needed by his Grange as Brother Dresser has done. In all it was a Gala day, there being in all about eighty in the gathering: 12 from South Bridgton; Frederick Roble, 10; 6 from Oxford Grange; 3 from Lakeside Grange; 2 from Otisfield Grange; 1 from Sweden; 42 from Crooked River Grange.
